FRIEZLAND BOOK WEEK

26.01.18

Dear Parents and Carers,

This year, World Book Day falls on 1st March and therefore we will dedicate the week beginning 26th February to celebrating all things bookish!

At Friezland, reading is already a key focus of the children's learning in lessons and we also encourage the pupils' enjoyment of reading during our daily FRED time and Buddy Reading. As a staff, we are continuously seeking to improve and develop new ways of teaching the children key reading and comprehension skills and recently undertook specialist Inference training with colleagues from Hey-With-Zion School. This term, our Governing Board will also be visiting school to observe English in action!

Our recent visit from poet Ian Bland proved an exciting day for all the children and helped support their creative writing skills. Class 4 are also currently working on a writing project in collaboration with Saddleworth School. So, as you can see, there's lots going on – but that's the Friezland way!

As it is already so busy, we have decided that this year we will not ask the children to dress up for World Book Day. Instead, as you will have seen in our weekly newsletter, the Friends of Friezland are organising a Character Cup Competition. Watch out for further details!

And finally...

We want to know the weird and wonderful places our children enjoy their reading. Send in a photo with a caption to explain where or who you are with, or email it to info@friezland.oldham.sch.uk anytime between now and 1st March. All photos will be entered into our competition and prizes will be awarded for the most weird and wonderful. We can't wait to decorate school with your pictures!

Thank you for your ongoing support.
Happy Reading!

Miss Hill
(English Co-ordinator)
